

PENNSYLVANIA SOLDIERS RETURNING FROM BORDER

Fifteen hundred officers and men of the Pennsylvania State National Guard were in Amarillo Friday morning enroute to their homes. The Pennsylvania National Guard, which was ordered back recently by the Third Regimental band, the soldiers' bands, made an excellent showing and the bands of Amarillo citizens looked to see them.

This is the first of soldiers passing through Amarillo a few months since for duty on the border. At the time of their passing down the state for the border duty, the soldiers stopped off here and paraded the streets, making music by the excellent band.

Their trip has been successful and made with many delays.

An officer in an interview this morning stated that a great number of the troops of the Third Regiment live in Philadelphia. The boys for the most part are eager to return to their respective homes, but so much because of the atmosphere of camp life, but because they have been here, they have seen the world and have seen the things which they have never before seen away from home.

He said that El Paso had recently been a very busy place. The soldiers have not enjoyed this part of camp life a little bit. At present time of the soldiers are scattered here and there down the Rio Grande south of El Paso, as far as Toltec.

Since the Pennsylvania boys arrived at camp at El Paso they have been training and taking long hikes. One of the most memorable was recently taken into New Mexico for a distance of 80 miles. It proved a real test to the officers, as the men negotiated the distance with little complaint and without severe fatigue. The long hikes proved to be a real test to the men's endurance. The long hikes proved to be a real test to the men's endurance.

The troops expect to reach their homes in Pennsylvania sometime next Tuesday. For the most part all of the men are in the very best possible shape. There are no sick, on this trip, all are glad to be going back to their homes.

The human touch is not missing from the officers and men. As they made their return march to the train at the Santa Fe station this morning they were the great object of the people's interest. The officers and men were the great object of the people's interest.

When the train pulled out, the soldiers were the great object of the people's interest. The soldiers were the great object of the people's interest.

It is a fact that at times there are more cases on the docket of the District Court of Potter County than can be tried and disposed of in two regular terms of twelve weeks each.

When it becomes necessary for citizens to litigate their affairs in the courts, it is of prime importance, both to litigants and taxpayers, that cases be disposed of within a reasonable time after they are filed.

At this time there can be no assurance of the trial of any important case within twelve months or more after same is filed. The citizens of Potter County, I believe, pay more taxes in proportion to population than any other county in the state.
